

New evening and weekend GP services

You can now access an appointment at a GP practice in the evening or at the weekend if you are a Somerset registered patient.

Local groups of practices are working together to deliver improved access to routine appointments in the evening and at weekends.

You can book one of these appointments by talking to the receptionist at your registered practice during opening hours.

If you or your family members become ill overnight or at the weekend and need medical advice outside of opening times, you should continue to call NHS 111.
